Hi:

1) My 8 month old son, Mohamed Saleh is sick. On November 16, 2012 he fell from the bed (3 feet tall). I took him to the ER where he had a CT scan. He had a hematoma in the head. A skull fracture was also suspected. Since the incident, he was not feeling well. I m following up with his pediatrician. He needs a special care now, so I did not have time to prepare well for the third exams and the finals. I was afraid I will have low grades that will significantly affect my GPA.

2) I m following up with my son's pediatrician. Academically I spoke with my advisor Dr Steve Mount and Dr Straney about my decision to withdrawal and they advised me that the withdrawal would be a wise chose.

Thank you.
